Students in District Test

Fourteen teams from seven schools in the Livingston-Stauben-Wyoming BOCES District gathered at the State University College at Genesee Jan. 8 to compete in the first Interscholastic Competition in English.

Students competed in three areas: Oral Interpretation of Literature, Creative Essay Writing, and Comprehension/Interpretation of Literature.

Dr. Charles Holowach, district superintendent presented the awards at an afternoon ceremony. Taking top honors was the White team from Wayland Central School. Winning team members were Becca Hayden, Chuck Malone and Heidi Henning.

Second place went to Wayland Central School's Maroon team, composed of Mary Wyatt, Chris Rowley and Peter Perkowski. The Alpha team from Livonia Central School took third place. Members were Heather O'Connell, Holly Hoppough and Debbie Dutton.

Medals for individual performance were awarded to the following students:

Literature—Mark Wyatt, Wayland Central, gold; Julie Brand, Genesee Central, silver; Becca Hayden, Wayland Central, bronze.

Oral Interpretation—Renee Palmeri, Warsaw Central, and Chris Rowley, Wayland Central, gold; Chuck Malone, Wayland Central, silver.

Essay—Shawn Lane, Dansville Central, gold; Heidi Henning, Wayland Central, silver; Debbie Dutton, Livonia Central, bronze.

The competition was organized through the Livingston-Stauben-Wyoming BOCES with the cooperation of the English Department of the Genesee college. Judges for the oral interpretations were Ellen Herzman, Genesee Drama Department; Bob Savage, WYSL; and Nancy Paciencia, BOCES Regional Program of Excellence Pilot.

Debate Program. Celia Easton and Julia Walker, both of the Genesee English Department, and Doris Moon, retired chairman of the English Department at Letchworth Central School, served as judges of the creative essays. Kathe Hartnett coordinated the competition.

Both teams will continue the competition, along with other BOCES area schools, on Mar. 17 at Rochester Institute of Technology. Each round will be televised. Winning teams will advance to the semi-finals on Mar. 18 and the finals Mar. 21.

Wayland team members include Amanda Lindsey, Stephanie Ayer, Tamara Pulver, Finnbar Murphy, Dan Kiesel, Jeff Nye, Erin James and Jennifer Averill. Their coaches are teachers Sarah Didas and Ruth Ann Hayward.

MARTIN KIMMEL

Wayland Collegian Gains High Honor

Martin J. Kimmel V, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kimmel Jr. of Wayland and a student at the University of Dayton in Ohio has been awarded The Order of Omega and named to the National Greek Fraternal Honors Society.

Kimmel, an electronic engineering technology major, received his award for academic excellence in his major as well as the contributions to students, his fraternity, and the University of Dayton. He is a member of three engineering clubs, AFCEA (Air Force Communications and electronics Association); MSDG (Microprocessor Systems Design Group) and is president of IEEE (Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers).

He also held two offices in his fraternity, is a tutor for engineering courses, and is student supervisor for his campus job.

Event Challenges Student Groups

Seventh- and eighth-grade students from Wayland and Keshequa central schools last Friday met at Wayland in the first of a series of competitions for the Academic Challenge Bowl sponsored by the area BOCES.

Teams of eight students from each school answered questions in the areas of social studies, science, mathematics, English, sports, music, art and so on.

The competition, similar to the GE College Bowl of several years ago — much like the area high school Brainstormers competition seen on local television — emphasizes student knowledge and reaction time to questions.

Both teams will continue the competition, along with other BOCES area schools, on Mar. 17 at Rochester Institute of Technology. Each round will be televised. Winning teams will advance to the semi-finals on Mar. 18 and the finals Mar. 21.

Wayland team members include Amanda Lindsey, Stephanie Ayer, Tamara Pulver, Finnbar Murphy, Dan Kiesel, Jeff Nye, Erin James and Jennifer Averill. Their coaches are teachers Sarah Didas and Ruth Ann Hayward.

Perkinsville News

MRS. ADAM ENGEL

PHONE 728-2272

Relatives in the area received word of the death of Fred Hemmer of LeRoy Jan. 18 after a long illness. Mr. Hemmer was in the hospital for several months and then was transferred to the Manor Oak Skilled Nursing Facility at Warsaw in October where he died. Burial was Friday, Jan. 22, from St. Mary's Church in Pavilion. The Hemmer family were residents of Perkinsville before moving to LeRoy about 40 years ago.

Now that the holidays are past and the dreary days of February and March approach remember the shut-ins. Every day can be a lonely, dreary time for them. A cheery greeting in the mail or a call on the phone to chat a few minutes or better yet a home visit for a few minutes will lift their spirits. Remember Willie Yohonn, Art Gessner, Frances Hughes, Mary Edmond, Al and Leona Obermeier, Norma Mehlenbacher.

If there are others in the area, let me know.

Congratulations to Jon Mark and Sinda Cossaboom who were married Saturday, Jan. 30, by Judge Smith in the Wayland Town Hall. A reception followed in the Perkinsville Fire Hall. Jon is the son of Mrs. Robert Mark.

Tomorrow, the Golden Agers will gather in the Perkinsville Community Center for the first meeting of the New Year. Mass will be celebrated at 11:30 a.m. followed by dinner. You are asked to bring your own table service.

Happy Birthday greetings to Michael Belanger and Tom Recktenwald on the seventh; Richard Huber on the eighth and Mark Hamsher on the ninth; Herman Schubmehl and Linda Schirmer on the 10th; David Flaitz and Nancy Mehlenbacher Smith on the 11th; Jeff LaBell on the 12th; Mary Murphy Perkowski on the 13th and Barbara Gerling and Richard Conrad on the 14th.

Set Reading Classes At Wayland Church

First class in the remedial program of reading difficulties began Tuesday at the Wayland Seventh-day Adventist Church under the direction of Vincent and Charlene Botticelli.

Each pupil has individual attention by appointment. Applications may be made throughout February. Call 728-2660 late afternoons Tuesday or Thursday or 367-2661 at other times.

Saturday, a fellowship dinner will be followed the church service. A meeting will be held to make plans for a Friend Day at the church Mar. 5, when invitation is extended to the community to share the morning's activities.

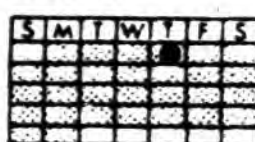

On Sunday, at 10 a.m., the Pathfinders will meet in the school room and the Community Services ladies will meet in the Dorcas Room.

There will be a weekend program for youth Feb. 13 and 14 at North Creek, N.Y. with a snow picnic at Gore Mountain and Indian Lake with skiing, tobogganing and ice skating on Sunday.
